

Inside JIMMY CREDIT: @FOHNYC

JIMMY

During the summer, poolside at JIMMY at The James Hotel in SoHo is the place to be, but the year-round rooftop has plenty to offer during the colder months in its spacious interior complete with a fireplace and floor-to-ceiling windows. For football fans looking to catch the game in a more refined but still festive setting, coverage is projected on the wall behind the pool. “The best part of fall at JIMMY is being able to catch the Sunday and Monday night football games,” said David Rabin, co-owner. “If you want to cheer on your team with friends but don’t want to be in a typical sports bar environment, you can come have amazing cocktails with great music spinning in the background and incredible views.”