New York bartenders have also gotten in on the action. Johnny Swet, co-owner and mixologist at JIMMY at the James, located on the rooftop of The James Soho, has a couple of non-alcoholic drinks like the In the Tiki Room, comprising Seedlip Spice 94, pineapple juice, nutmeg and cherries. At Stay Gold, a cocktail bar in Kips Bay, head bartender Kacie Lambert added the Dry Birdy, a play on one of her boozy offerings, with Seedlip Garden 108, strawberry basil shrub, lemon and seltzer water.
